I oppose the intent of the End of Life Choice Bill because I believe in the value of all life. I believe God made us and we do not get to decide when we are born or when we die. He is sovereign. I work as a carer in the community and see many people suffer with a variety of conditions. Their conditions do not make them any less valuable, in fact their suffering can teach people to care and have compassion. I believe modern medicine is amazing at prolonging life and easing pain and that doctors should do no harm nor be obliged to do so. I believe euthanasia and assisted suicide are a slippery slope to devaluing life in all its fullness of experiences and that we should not go down that path.

I pray that life will be valued in this country.

Sincerely

Carina
